COUNTAMAX®

The counter alternative

Channel launches Countamax as a matrix alternative to pertinax material

Channel is delighted to announce a revolutionary new creasing matrix whose shoulders are made from phenolic resin, the same as the material traditionally found in pertinax counter sheets.

New Countamax offers the end user the best of both worlds: the ease of use and flexibility of creasing matrix with the hard wearing properties of phenolic counters.

If damage or wear is experienced on the run there is no need to rely on the die maker to make a new set of counters, avoiding expensive downtime. Equally there is no requirement for accessories such as locating pins or adhesive. Simply use Countamax out of the box as an alternative to your traditional counters. Thanks to its hard wearing shoulders, it consistently outperforms any other matrix on the market by at least 4 times.

Growth in the market

Howard Mead joined Channel in September 2015 and has been delighted with the response he has received from our customers. The product range available from Channel has captured the imagination of our UK customers and our new UK dedicated stock has improved our service offering substantially.

Quality product and outstanding service = happy customers!
